

BOG-HEMP
Boehmeria cylindrica

Located in moist ground and shady places throughout the Division. Also known as False Nettle.

A perennial herb (nettle family) from 0.3 to 0.9 m high. Leaves on stalks are opposite each other on the stem. Leaf edges with coarse teeth, but there are no stinging hairs as on stinging nettle. The green flowers form clusters on separate spikes which arise from the point where the leaf stalk meets the stem. Flowers present from late July through October.

